

TASMANIAN FIRST CLASS CRICKETERS

Chronological list from 1851 to 2010

Although Tasmania was, with Victoria, the first Australian colony to play a first class cricket match in Australia at Launceston 1851, a decision by the Board of the Tasmanian Cricket Association determined that the sequence of numbering the players as they debuted for the state in first class cricket would recognize only those who represented Tasmania from the time the state was admitted to play in the Sheffield Shield competition.

The following list compiles all those players who have represented Tasmania in all first class matches since 1851.

There is a pictorial display of the photographs of (almost) all these players in the Cricket Museum at Bellerive.
